Math Technology in the Special Education Algebra Regents Classroom

Participants will learn how to integrate Texas Instruments technology into the special education math classroom. Participants will experience sample activities from the perspective of a student. Special emphasis will be placed on meeting the needs struggling learners in Algebra Regents lessons using the TI-Navigator and TI-84 calculator.

Bio:

Holly Terrill is a T<sup>3</sup> Regional Instructor with a strong background in special education and low-level math education. Over the last four years, she has integrated TI Technology into her classroom to boost the self-confidence and understanding of her low-level students. Holly has worked with all levels of high school students in both the regular education and special education settings. She has modified assignments and activities to meet the needs of all types of learners to raise the bar in the math classroom.
