

Planning Step Two: Develop Formats for Final Products

How can authenticity be built into the final product choices?

How and to what audience will students demonstrate their understanding?

What level of thinking is required by the final product?

How do final product choices provide opportunities for differentiation?

What presentation/production/performance skills are required for this final product?