

The Innovator's Workshop

Presented by George Couros

If we want innovative students, we need innovative educators. In other words, innovation begins with you. Ultimately, innovation is not about a skill set but about mindset!

Carol Dweck's work has focused on the ideas of "fixed" and "growth" mindset, yet educators will need to go a step further with these notions to create the learning opportunities and that our students and schools deserve. We need to focus not only what we know, but what we do with what we know. In his book, "The Innovator's Mindset", George encourages educators to empower their learners to wonder, to explore—and to become forward-thinking leaders.

Join national presenter, George for an insightful day in which you will learn how to:

- Dig deeper into the idea of the "Innovator's Mindset" and model and apply practical ways to implement that as an educator and learner.
- Use social networking to look to connect within the local and global community to further learning for all learners.
- Focus on ways that we can create meaningful personal, professional learning opportunities for ourselves and the school community.

THE INNOVATOR'S MINDSET is for you if:

- You are a superintendent, district administrator, or principal who wants to empower your staff to create a culture of innovation.
- You are a school leader—at any level—and want help students and educators become their personal best.
- You are a teacher who wants to create relevant learning experiences and help students develop the skills they need to be successful.

A copy of the book, The Innovator's Mindset: Empower Learning, Unleash Talent, and Lead a Culture of Creativity, is included with this workshop.
