This workshop will provide suggestions for preparing students to succeed on the new Framework Regents in U.S. History and Government.

Participants will:

• Review the Task Models upon which the stimulus-based multiple choice questions are based.

• Consider the demands of the Part II Short Essay Questions and discuss strategies for helping students address these demands: historical contextualization; identifying and explaining historical relationships; sourcing documents and determining reliability for a specific purpose.

• Develop instructional strategies to strengthen students’ performance on the Part III Constitutional/Civic Issues Essay.

• Determine content appropriate for review by listing the historical relationships as well as the constitutional/civic issues identified or suggested in the Framework.

NOTE: This workshop will also be helpful in suggesting summer curriculum projects for those districts which have opted to delay the administration of the new Framework exam until June 2021.

Alice D. Grant was Social Studies Department Chair (6-12) at Pelham Memorial High School in Pelham, New York. A consultant to the College Board in AP United States and European History and Pre AP Social Studies instruction, Alice has taught graduate level courses for AP history teachers and methods courses for pre-service teachers and has presented numerous workshops on pre AP, AP, and Regents teaching strategies throughout the region. Honored by both the Westchester and New York State Councils for Social Studies with the Distinguished Social Studies Educator Award, Alice is also a charter member of the New York State Academy of Teaching and Learning. Alice’s experience as an Advanced Placement History teacher as well as her participation over the last three years in the national consultant training for the new Advanced Placement United States and European History courses—courses which have influenced the writing of the NYSED Social Studies Framework—prepare her to assist departments in aligning their inquiry based instruction.
